

A SCENE RARELY enacted in these modern times took place last Thursday in Memorial Park when about 200 friends of Dr. Philip R. Woodworth bid him a fond farewell. Dr. Woodworth, who is retiring after practicing for 12 years in Sierra Madre, was completely surprised by the reception in his honor. Among those present were several dozen youngsters, most of whom were delivered by the doctor. The Woodworths plan to tour Europe starting May 12, including a long awaited visit to England, the home country of Mrs. Woodworth who will be returning after an absence of 30 years. Shown presenting gifts to Dr. Woodworth and his wife is Dr. Dan D'Arcy, at right. He was given a film projector and $100 in cash, and his wife was presented a bouquet of lilacs. Among those who arranged the surprise party was Mrs. Marjorie Eukin, who formerly worked in Dr. Woodworth's office. Mrs. Woodworth said she and her husband "were overcome by the warmth and spontaneous affection shown by all our Sierra Madre friends."

Final Rites Held for Mrs. Steele

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. yesterday in Ripple Mortuary for Mrs. Isabelle F. Steele, 53-year-old Sierra Madrean who was murdered last week at her N. Baldwin Ave. home.

Police have charged her divorced husband, Ralph Steele, 62, with murder.

Police Chief Gordon MacMillan said yesterday that Steele has refused so far to make any statement concerning the crime except to repeat, "I don't remember." He is in the County Jail in Los Angeles.

THE BODY of Mrs. Steele, who apparently had been bludgeoned to death with a hammer, was discovered last Thursday morning by her 18-year-old son, Ralph Steele Jr., in a crawl space beneath her home at 385 N. Baldwin. Mrs. Steele was owner of a nine-unit apartment house and her ex-husband lived in one of the units.

Police believe Mrs. Steele was killed Wednesday. The divorced husband was arrested Wednesday in Pasadena, before the discovery of Mrs. Steele's body, after savagely attacking Attorney Robert H. Aarons, 55, in the lawyer's office at 15 N. Euclid Ave.

Aarons, who handled the Steele divorce case some four years ago, was beaten on the head and shoulders with a hammer. Police believe the same weapon may have been used to kill Mrs. Steele.

A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Steele had been a resident of California since 1907. She moved to Sierra Madre from San Pedro in 1944.

Mrs. Steele was well known in Sierra Madre and frequently made house-to-house appeals in her continuing fight against rising taxes. In 1951, she was an unsuccessful candidate for the Pasadena Board of Education.

SHE IS survived by a son, Ralph, 18; two daughters, Diana Marie, 16, and Isabelle, 11; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Donohue, San Pedro, and Mrs. Emily Parks, Los Angeles, and one brother, John W. James, Ontario.

The son is presently staying with a Sierra Madre family, while the two girls are living with the sister in San Pedro.

About 25 persons attended the funeral services, most of whom were relatives of the late Mrs. Steele. Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church officiated. Interment was private in Inglewood Cemetery.

Wheel Hawks Seek Support For Safety Run

Members of Wheel Hawks, Sierra Madre car club, will contact local merchants this Saturday for funds to help the group enter the sixth annual Youth Safety and Economy Run.

The competition will be held June 21 to 23. Stock cars, all of which will be thoroughly inspected, will leave the Los Angeles area and be driven to Yosemite and back.

In Sierra Madre, the Wheel Hawks group is sponsored by the Police Department.

James McCoy Chairman of City Recreation

James L. McCoy has been appointed chairman of the Sierra Madre Parks and Recreation Commission, it was announced yesterday.

He succeeds Frank Barbour who is retiring after serving on the committee for three years.

New members appointed to succeed Mr. Barbour and Milton Goldberg, who has been a committee member for 10 years, are George Fleming and Al Foxton.

Lions Club Sets Pioneer Days in June

Pioneer Days will be revived in Sierra Madre June 26-27 under the sponsorship of the Lions Club.

Featured will be a home talent show, a raffle, games of skill and rides. There will be a carnival in the vacant lot next to the Woman's Clubhouse.

Plans also call for a parade Saturday morning, June 27, and dedication of the Mt. Wilson plaque by members of the Sierra Madre Historical Society.

At least one other organization will hold an event in conjunction with Pioneer Days. The Kiwanis Club tentatively plans to schedule the annual Community Breakfast in Memorial Park on June 27.

The Lions Club has invited all organizations in Sierra Madre to sponsor booths at the carnival, with the proceeds to go to the group handling the booth.

All money raised by the Lions Club itself will be used for youth activities and city beautification.

Harold Pangborn is in charge of arrangements.

Col. Thurber Sustains Heart Attack

Col. Walter D. Thurber, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, suffered a heart attack last Saturday evening during a family party and was rushed to St. Luke Hospital.

He was reported progressing satisfactorily, but will have to remain in the hospital for several weeks. He is 78 years old.

His position in the Chamber of Commerce has been filled by Anthony Cavalli, who was called from retirement by Chamber President E. R. Mitchell. Mr. Cavalli retired as Chamber manager only a few months ago.

An extremely active man, Col. Thurber has led and organized literally dozens of community projects. He is a recipient of the Freedom Foundation award, given in Valley Forge, Pa., each year to a citizen whose activities in behalf of American democracy are considered outstanding.

Col. Thurber suffered two other strokes and an attack of typhoid fever in the past eight years and recovered from all of them. His latest attack was a coronary occlusion or blood clot in the heart.

Five Enter Contest For School Board

Book Sale Is Huge Success

The book sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library was described as a "huge success" yesterday by Mrs. Helen Loomis, president of the organization.

Not only did the Friends raise $221.42 from the sale itself, but Miss Ruth Cain, head librarian, selected donated volumes that are worth at least $600.

Many of the books she chose were duplicate copies and volumes on unusual subjects. Among the gifts was the Oxford Universal Dictionary which is valued at $25. Beautifully illustrated books on birds, the opera and other subjects also were donated.

"SOME OF the books," said Miss Cain, "are volumes the Library couldn't begin to buy."

About 2,000 books were donated for the sale, which Mrs. Loomis said the Friends hope to make an annual affair.

Among the volumes were paper backs and condensations which were given to the local chapter of the American Red Cross for distribution in veterans' hospitals.

Money raised in the sale will be turned over to the Library for the purchase of new books. The sale is part of the Friends' drive to bring the local Library up to the standards of the American Library Association.

"The response was extremely gratifying," said Mrs. Loomis. "Sierra Madre is to be congratulated."

Catholic High School Approved by City

Plans for a Catholic high school for girls here were approved last Wednesday night by the Planning Commission.

The school will be located in the 13-acre estate of the Sisters of St. Francis, 675 E. Highland, and eventually will house 500 girls. The school is expected to open in September, 1960.

In approving the project, the commission stipulated that a perimeter of planting be maintained around the school and that the buildings be one story in height with the exception of the auditorium which can be a story and a half.

LITTLE OPPOSITION was expressed against the project. Property owners on Grand View suggested certain recommendations, many of which were included in plans for the school and others which were covered in the commission's stipulations.

Unless the commission's action is appealed, the City Council will not have to act on the matter.

The school will contain four classroom buildings, a combined administration building and library, an outdoor dining area, tennis courts, a gymnasium and parking lot.

It will accommodate the freshman class the first year with a new class added each year until all four high school grades are established.

The Sisters of St. Francis, a Catholic teaching order, will provide the instructors.

THE MOTHERHOUSE and Novitiate of the Sisters of St. Francis, presently located at the Highland Ave. estate, will be moved to a 38-acre site in Redwood City.

When completed, the $2,000,000 structure will house 200 sisters, including novices and postulants. In addition to the living quarters in the new building in Redwood City,

Dr. and Mrs. Daniel D'Arcy will hold open house from 2 to 5 p.m. this Sunday in honor of Mrs. D'Arcy's father who celebrated his 90th birthday Feb. 25. All friends are welcome at the D'Arcy home at 321 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

New Restaurant Plans Open House This Friday

The city's newest restaurant—the Sierra Madre Coffee Shop at 147 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.—will open for business on Monday, April 27.

Proprietors of the restaurant, Mrs. Esther S. Eppard and Miss Florence Billow, have invited the public to an open house this Friday, April 24, from 6 to 9 p.m. During business hours, the coffee shop will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The restaurant will feature home-cooked food and baked goods. The dining room contains a fireplace, and a special feature is a separate room which will seat a party of from six to 10. The establishment is air-conditioned.

Alarm Routs Burrowing Burglar

A burglar made an unsuccessful attempt Monday night to break into Don Jackson's Store for Men by digging a hole in the wall of the adjoining barber shop.

Officer Leonard Carnighan of the Sierra Madre Police was attracted to the scene by the clanging, burglar alarm at 10:30 p.m. Monday. The burglar apparently fled the instant the alarm sounded.

He entered Mike's Barber Shop by prying open a rear window and then attempted to burrow through the wall into Don Jackson's. Carnighan said six holes had been dug in the wall.

The burglar's digging was stopped not only by the alarm but by an encounter with a beam in the wall.

One Candidate Opposes Tax Hike

Five candidates will run for two vacancies on the Board of Education in the election May 19, including three who filed within the past week.

Seeking the offices will be Kenneth Bush, incumbent and president of the School Board; Claude Brown Jr., Mrs. Charles Fretz, Mrs. Donald J. Colbert and Daniel H. Daniels.

Voters also will decide May 19 whether to increase the elementary school tax rate by 50 cents, a move which, if approved, would cost the average Sierra Madre homeowner $15 more a year in school taxes, based on a home with an assessed valuation of $3,000.

AT LEAST one candidate — Mrs. Colbert — is opposed to the tax measure, and another — Mr. Daniels — has not yet decided whether the increase is necessary.

All candidates issued statements this week to the Sierra Madre News.

The incumbent, Mr. Bush, said: "If the people of Sierra Madre want the kind of school system the citizens' committee thinks we should have, then the tax increase is essential. In any event, the voters will decide May 19 on the type of elementary district we will operate here."

A resident of Sierra Madre for 20 years, Mr. Bush is seeking a second term on the Board. He was appointed over three years ago to fill the unexpired term of John Conzelmann and was elected shortly thereafter.

Mr. Bush formerly was choir director for the Congregational Church here, and each summer he acts as master of ceremonies at band concerts in the park. He is staff supervisor in charge of sales training for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

MR. BROWN, vice president of Parkway Manufacturing Corp. in Pasadena, said: "I have become a candidate primarily because I would like to help evolve an even better school system than we now have. In the past few years, there has been a marked improvement in the quality of education we are offering our children. However, there are some areas in which I believe we should, and could, progress more rapidly. I certainly have no major 'gripes.'"

"I am willing to give my full support to the proposed new tax limit which will be voted upon in the coming election. I am convinced that its approval is necessary."

"I believe that the best interests of our children and our community lies in local control of both educational policy and finances."

A resident of Sierra Madre for the past 11 years, Mr. Brown and his wife, Elena, were co-presidents of the PTA about four years ago. The couple has five children, three of whom are in Sierra Madre schools.

Mrs. Fretz, a resident of Sierra Madre for 10 years, said: "Naturally, I hate to pay more taxes, but if it means keeping our school system within our city limits, under local control, then I'm for it."

"The primary reason I decided to run, aside from my interest in the school system, is my conviction that there should be at least two women on the Board of Education. I think a 'mother's touch' is really needed."

Mrs. Fretz was co-president of the PTA for two terms—1956 to 1958—and has two children in the Sierra Madre School system and one in Marshall Junior High in Pasadena. She also has been active in Scouting.

MRS. COLBERT, the only candidate actively opposed to the tax measure, said: "I am running for the Board because of my keen and long-time concern for school affairs. My particular interest is the annexing of Sierra Madre schools to the Pasadena School District, now."

"I'm opposed to the proposed tax increase of 50 cents. It would be a waste of money, since annexation is inevitable. We have four children, and therefore I'm interested in a sound educational program."

"I'm running as an independent, and I am not a member of any special interest group."

Mrs. Colbert has lived in Sierra Madre for about 12 years. One of her four children is now in Sierra Mesa School, and two others will attend. The fourth child is a student at Marshall.

MR. DANIELS, a clerk in the Sierra Madre Post Office, said: "If we need a tax increase to run our schools properly, I'm in favor of it. But there has been a lot of double talk concerning the tax proposal, and I don't like double talk."

"My first concern is to guarantee a good education for my children. If this costs money, we will have to raise it."

A resident of Sierra Madre for eight years, Mr. Daniels is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and has worked in the Post Office for six years.

He and his wife have two children, one of which will be in kindergarten next year. The other is a student at Pasadena City College.

FIRST CHOICE of the group was for an unrestricted parking lot, badly needed in the canyon. A total of 110 votes were cast in favor of parking.

"The choice of the association," said Bob Imus, president, "will be offered (Continued on Page 10)"

YES Committee Opens Tax Drive

The YES Committee, which is actively working for the passage of the school tax increase at the special election on May 19, is opening its campaign with a letter to all registered voters.

The letter informs them of the coming election and offers committee services to the community as a source of information about the need for the new limit of $1.95, as set by the School Board.

A speakers' bureau has been set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. David Wood to provide speakers for any organization or group wishing further information.

IN ANSWER to the question, "Why another school tax election now?" Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., committee co-chairman, said:

"Like everybody in Sierra Madre, I am unhappy about the increasing taxes all along the line. However, my concern for a good, solid education for all children far outweighs my unhappiness."

"The new school tax limit requested by the School Board is a real need. The decision of the School Board was neither lightly nor whimsically reached."

"One of the functions of the YES Committee will be to supply as much information as possible to illustrate and explain that need."

"We will try to answer or get the answers to any question the voters may have. We hope that the community will take advantage of this service."

MEANWHILE, it was pointed out by the ABC Committee that Sierra Madreans will have two election dates—May 19 for the Elementary District and June 5 for the Pasadena High School and Junior College Districts, of which Sierra Madre is a member.

The ABC Committee is Pasadena's counterpart of the YES Committee. "Sierra Madre voters get their educational ballots in two installments, May 19 and June 5," said Hugh Colvin, member of the Sierra Madre Board of Education.

"Every citizen who is concerned with the children's entire education from kindergarten through junior college will vote on the second installment as well as the first. Propositions A and B reach the voters second in time, but not second in importance."

PROPOSITION C, which concerns the Pasadena Elementary District, will not appear on Sierra Madre ballots.

The ABC Committee, of which Lee S. Sanders is chairman, meets every Wednesday evening at the Pasadena Education Center, 351 S. Hudson.

Dedication of Heasley Field Set Saturday

The late James C. Heasley, long a member of the local Police Department and chief of the Sierra Madre Fire Department, will be honored for his interest in children's activities by having the Little League baseball field named the "James Heasley Field."

Dedication ceremonies on Park this Saturday, April 25, at 9:30 a.m., will be "emceed" by Frank Barbour, former chairman of the Recreation Commission. Saturday was chosen for the dedication because it marks the opening of the Little League baseball season in Sierra Madre.

PLANS HAVE been made to make this a community-wide event in which all groups which support local youth activities, such as service clubs, merchants, the Board of Education, the Recreation Commission, etc., can participate.

Grass has been planted in the outfield, a sprinkler system has been installed, and drinking fountains set up, in addition to the resurfacing of the diamond itself.

Masons Plan Dinner for Teachers

The Masonic Lodge will hold a dinner Saturday evening to honor Sierra Madre teachers during Public School Week.

The main speaker will be Dr. Edward H. Rowins, assistant superintendent of schools in Pasadena. He will discuss "Education in California." The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m.

On Monday evening, April 27, the two elementary schools here will hold an open house, with patriotic exercises and the awarding of prizes for pupil contests. Prizes will be given in the essay competition sponsored by the PTA and in the poster contest sponsored by the Masons.

The Masons have sponsored Public Schools Week each year for the past 30 years. This year's slogan is "Quality Education for California Schools."

Refund, What Refund?

There's a rumor afloat in Sierra Madre that the Elementary School District may receive a sizeable tax refund in the near future, so big, in fact, that a tax increase to support the schools would not be necessary.

Like many rumors, this one is based on an uneasy foundation, although it is partially correct.

As a result of a recent State Supreme Court decision, all assessments have been invalidated "that have been made, beginning with the fiscal year 1952-53, of possessory interest in personal property which was subject to title in the Federal government" (in Los Angeles County).

NOBODY, however, seems to know exactly what the decision means or how it will actually affect the county or what steps the State Legislature may have to take to implement it.

If it is interpreted to mean, as is expected, that taxes collected on personal property in which the government had title must be refunded, the decision would be a windfall to many school districts.

But what about Sierra Madre?

Well, the Pasadena Elementary District would get $76,397, only a drop in the inkwell, but Los Angeles would receive $4,188,892.

Monrovia would get $8,554, but unfortunate La Canada would acquire only $750.31.

AS FOR Sierra Madre—if, indeed, the legal snarls are ever untangled, we would receive the princely sum of $97.57—or enough to buy a set of children's encyclopedias, a second-hand phonograph or an old piano.

But not enough, certainly, to pay one teacher for one pay period.

And one of the primary reasons we need more money to run our elementary schools here is to be able to pay teachers the salaries they deserve and to hire enough instructors to assure our youngsters of the educations they deserve.—H.W.E.

Your Tax Dollar

A subject dear to the hearts of most of us is money, particularly around April 15 when Uncle Sam is holding out his hand to receive our tax contributions.

Where does your tax dollar go? Well, here's what happens to every $100 you pay in income taxes:

DEFENSE AND national security, $59.50; debt payment and interest, $10.50; agriculture, $7.80; veterans' service and benefits, $6.60; labor and welfare, $5.40; commerce and housing, $2.90; international affairs and finance, $2.80; natural resources, $2.20; general government, $2.20, and allowance for contingencies, 10 cents.

We pay $70, you will have observed, of every $100 in taxes to pay for past wars and to build for the possibility of a future war.

What a Eutopian world this would be if only about half of the money spent on wars had been budgeted to build roads, schools, libraries, hospitals, places of recreation and, in general, to erect symbolic monuments to the intelligence, the compassion of mankind.

Instead, we build monuments of steel and powder to honor man's basest instincts, his lust for vengeance, his greed, his search for a superior weapon of destruction.

And this is where the bulk of your tax dollar goes.—H.W.E.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

Now the indefatigable scientists who are making it possible for all of us to live modern—and die the same way—announce that they have worked out formulas for instant Scotch, instant bourbon and instant vodka. Doubtless the next step will be instant port, sherry, champagne and so on. And I suppose the inevitable climax will be instant death. How about putting a speed limit on scientists as well as on motorists.

AS THINGS are going, one can easily foresee the time when the friendly tavern—the place where so many fights and home-wrecking flirtations start—will vanish, for all anyone who wishes to be socially popular will need will be half a dozen cans of mixes for the more popular drinks. So equipped, one can serve anything from vodka to champagne by merely taking a pinch from the right can, stirring it in water and serving it with a dainty napkin. And of course every grocer will carry the mixes. We should have seen this coming, for eggnogs and tom-and-jerry mixes have been with us for quite awhile. And we realized how times are changing the other day when my helpsend was reading some menus prepared by our good friend, Marian Manners. The first thing mentioned in the menus suggested for both luncheon and dinner was Scotch on the rocks!

WHAT A BLESSING recorded commercials must be to radio and TV announcers. Those recordings keep the continual repetitions from being half as bothersome to the announcers as they are to us. But is that strictly fair? The announcers get paid for firing those recordings at us, while it often costs us to listen to them.

SAW IN THE paper other day that 12 California farm companies—not farmers' mind you, but companies, divided $800,000 for not planting and that other California farm corporations were paid $1,857,000 in price supports. I think everyone realizes the farm price support plan is crazy and no matter how one tries to rationalize it one cannot make it rational. It sets aside the law of supply and demand and is fast becoming a burden too great for even our rich nation to bear.

The American dream, to my mind, is not to keep up with the Joneses but to be self-dependent. I always try to raise a few edible fruits and vegetables in my yard, just a gesture of self-dependence. For some time we have been eating lettuce, beets and spinach from a plot of ground no longer than an athlete can jump and no wider than I can jump. But next year I think I'll just let it go to weeds and try to collect from Uncle Sam for patriotically leafing.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
Courteous driving has always paid big dividends—cash in the bank, plus the lives it saves.

Letters to the Editor

SCHOOL FACTS

Dear Sir:
As one who has studied the current financial problems of our schools, I would like to express my appreciation to the Sierra Madre News for the constructive attitude of your editorial policies on this matter.
It is good to know that our local newspaper is willing to take a firm stand based on a comprehensive study of financial facts, and not just opinion.
We hope we can continue to get the facts to the public so that they will be better informed on the needs of the public schools when they go to the polls on May 19th.

Thank you,
MRS. W. M. WAITE

ABOVE LAW?

Are the police in Sierra Madre above the law? Are policemen permitted under law to double park, make U-turns, park on the wrong side of the street, leave their cars in the middle of the boulevard with the doors wide open?
We poor ordinary citizens have little chance in Sierra Madre to violate a traffic ordinance without getting nabbed by the cops.
This is as it should be. But shouldn't policemen also obey the traffic laws and set a good example for the rest of us?

Sincerely,
J.F.A.

SUPER SERVICE

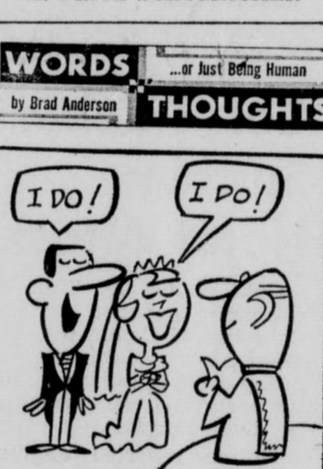

Dear Sir:
For several weeks we noticed the sign "Closed for Remodelling" in the window of an unused service station at the northwest corner of Sierra Madre and Lima. One evening the sign and the building to which it was attached were gone. Only the foundation and paved yard remained.

Next evening foundation and pavement were gone and the entire area was cultivated, ready for a crop of beans. This, we felt, was carrying "remodelling" a bit too far. We were totally unprepared for the final shock. In another 24 hours the bean field was gone and only a yawning pit remained.

Two huge black tanks, on hand for burial, were the first signs of a new super gasorium about to rise from the pit. If the rebuilding is as thorough as the demolition process, the new establishment should be a credit to a busy corner of our charming city. We look forward to a new type of super service which will supply volatile fluid through a fire hose to slake the massive thirst of GMC and eye dropper service for the daintily sipping DKW.

Very sincerely,
K. FRITZ SCHUMACHER

HALF-PAST TEEN

Around the Square

By Tommy Ann Miller

The James C. Heasley Little League Ball Diamond will be dedicated Saturday morning to the late Jim Heasley—a man who was pretty much dedicated to children and baseball.

Ceremonies, arranged by Little League chairman, W. H. Coulson, will be conducted by Mayor Charles James and Charlie Brown—who replaced Jim as Fire Chief. Jim's widow, Myrtle Heasley, and sons, Jim Jr. of this city, Happy of San Diego and Kendall of Bakersfield, will witness the 9 o'clock ceremony at Sierra Vista Park.

In his late teens, Jim was pitcher-manager of his own ball team in Natrona, Pa., and he was always an enthusiastic supporter of Little League here. It's appropriate that the league's first game of the season will be played following the tribute to Jim. He would have liked the idea.

TOO BAD someone didn't stop to help "Tawny" the 3-year-old male Boxer dog (belonging to Anne Avon) who was hit by a car on West Sierra Madre Blvd., last Monday night. A trip to the vet's might have saved "Tawny's" life—but instead he was left to die in the street of his injuries.

NOTED NATURALIST. Robert P. Hays has been cited by the California Conservation Commission for his distinguished service in nature conservation. For 30 years, Mr. Hays (who lives up on Fairview with wife, Margaret and daughters Margo and Sylvia), has been a Life Science instructor at Pasadena City College.

SPEAKING OF conservation—a great berry cluster of Deadly Nightshade on a busy corner worries one mother ("the berries look so tempting to the children") so she's been waging a one-woman war on the poisonous weed—and plucks them whenever passing.

Naturally, the Nightshade's nest is about the only spot in town without a "Destroy the Weed" sign—while some casual gardeners blush to note the order posted in their front yards. (Well, there are those of us who LIKE rustic landscaping!)

TOURIST TABLOID. Hank Shippey (long-time Sierra Madrean now dwelling La Jolla beachward) is editor and publisher of "The Baja California Guide"—a monthly tabloid (circulation 10,000) which gives tips on vacation spots, fishing, etc., in Baja.

TWO LATE-MODEL sedans screeched around Mountain Trail and Grand View corner late Sunday afternoon, raced fender to fender before pausing (just barely) at Baldwin corner to turn north in the same two-wheeled noisy jumble. Why? If the "boys" were bent on proving their prowess, why not do it with fists in a vacant lot?

Practically every street in town is heavily peopled with children—those of "legal" street-crossing age, as well as babies who occasionally escape their protective confines and toddle into the road. What chance would a child (or anybody, for that matter) have in the midst of a high-speed drag race—where the drivers couldn't possibly stop in time to avoid manslaughter?

ALTHOUGH there was every type of missile (including the X-15 and the mighty towering THOR) on display at the World Congress of Flight in Las Vegas, one Wistaria Cityite noted that the biggest crowd of people were gathered "Ooo-ing" and "Ahh-ing" around two spindly looking World War I fighter planes.

HAIL! Helen Smith—home from St. Luke Hospital—and feeling hale again?

And at the opposite end of Ramona block, another St. Luke patient, Jim McCoy, is recuperating from a recent auto accident. (But it hurts him to laugh—so play it straight, please, visitors.)

ART'S PET SUPPLY store is now the clearing house for telephone bill payments—and while it means extra cogitating for Art, many a customer is remembering to pick up birdseed with his bill. (Ouch!)

Eisenhower Now on His Own

By Robert G. Spivack

THE LONELY PRESIDENT

The departure of John Foster Dulles moved the President to tears. In Bonn, the West German government bemoaned the loss of a strong friend. In France, the comments were more restrained but tributes were paid to Dulles' sense of dedication and his tireless energy. In London, the diplomats were inclined to give him an "E" for effort, but to mark him unsatisfactory when it came to results.

In a Cabinet of tiny men, Dulles loomed as a giant. Even if history is less generous in measuring his stature, it is never a pleasant sight to watch a proud man struggling merely to keep alive. Certainly watching a man in the agony of the final phases of cancer tugs even at the hearts of his unkindest critics.

Yet certain things must be said and certain facts need facing . . .

First, Dulles' departure from the Cabinet does not come at a moment of genuine world crisis, even taking into account the tensions of Berlin. Second, Dulles has not been running the show for several months. If we are drifting now, we were also drifting when he was at the helm. The course the country is following has been set, Dulles' presence or absence was not that crucial.

FOR THE PRESIDENT. Of course, Dulles' removal from the scene is something quite different. It is a personal, not merely a political, matter. While those who know the President sometimes more critical of Dulles than his public utterances indicated, there is no doubt that Mr. Eisenhower had come to lean on him mightily.

There are those who say the departure of Dulles finally makes the President a free man. People closer to him are better able to judge that. But the absence of Dulles, plus the enforced departure of Sherman Adams, leaves Mr. Eisenhower very much on his own.

So the question that naturally arises is this: Is there an "Eisenhower" who is different from the man who was "guided" or "hemmed in" by Dulles and Adams? If so what sort of man is he? The final two years of this Administration should provide the answer.

THE CASE THAT SHOOK THE CAPITAL—J. B. Matthews, as many will remember, was the chief researcher and red-hunter for the late Sen. Joe McCarthy. His son, J. B. Matthews Jr., lived in Springfield, Va., just outside Washington. He was a leader in the church choir, a quiet neighbor, and an electronics engineer for the Federal Aviation Agency. While the elder Matthews had a reputation for shrillness, the son was a silent, pensive man.

A week ago J. B. Matthews Jr. picked up a baseball bat, crushed the skulls of his three teenage children, tried to kill his wife and finally plunged a knife into his chest and killed himself.

Rather than attempt to explain this tragedy myself, I pass on a letter written by Frank C. Waldrop, who many will recognize as the former editor of The Washington Times-Herald, a confidant of "Cissy" Patterson and friend of the late Col.

trative accomplishment, but is vital to the people. They have learned that failure to balance the budget makes for inflationary measures that force up the cost-of-living to everyone, and they don't like it.

Secondly, the people of our district are very much concerned about labor legislation. Why they asked, can't we get legal protection from the high-handed and arrogant practices of certain union bosses? Well, the answer to that one is we simply haven't had the votes. But if other congressmen heard that question in their districts as often as I heard it in ours, maybe we'll get the votes now.

THE NEXT biggest subject I heard discussed was the farm problem. The story of Stanley Yankus aroused a lot of feeling. The fact that the present farm program would force a man to leave his farm and country is enough to cause concern.

Year after year Secretary of Agriculture Benson has asked Congress for new farm legislation. But Congress clings to the out-moded price support and acreage allotment schemes. Here again, we haven't had enough votes to do the job. I've introduced two bills, and many proposals are pending that would modify our farm laws. Certainly changes will be made if my colleagues got the same reaction as I found in the 21st District.

THERE IS, I found, a lot of uncertainty among the people of our district about the status of the Un-American Activities Committee. Let me assure you the committee is going strong, and is doing a magnificent job of investigating and exposing subversive activities. And this is due largely to your support and the thousands of signatures on petitions to save the committee; a drive that started right in our district and spread all over the country.

While in the district I took a very close look at business conditions and employment. Business is good and there is little unemployment. There is every reason to believe conditions will remain good.

Here's a closing thought: A government big enough to give you everything you want is also strong enough to take away everything you've got.

Robert McCormick, publisher of The Chicago Tribune.

WRITES WALDROP:

"The killer that lives in me, as he lives in you, has shown himself once more in public, this time at the breakfast table in Springfield, Va. A church deacon, model neighbor, a sober decent citizen with a highly responsible job in the sacred science of physics, is the new victim, but not the last or even the latest . . .

"Who can look on the story of J. B. Matthews Jr. and say: 'Nothing to me. He must have been crazy. Just cracked up.'"

"Surely not you. For the next such victim and Matthews here is the victim just as much as his children—may get from the universal demon that lives in us all, a notion not to beat his own children to death with a baseball bat, but to blow up the plane you are on, or run over you with his automobile, or maybe just blow your head off with a shotgun as you go by his kitchen window . . .

"What is this demon, the killer that hides in me—and in you?"

"The name we give it is mental disease, a poor and weak description of a catastrophe so universal and so appalling that one hospital bed out of every 10 in this great, fat happy nation is occupied by a person so afflicted.

"Do you care? If so send $5 to the Washington School of Psychiatry (or the local mental health institute in your home town—RGS) and you will get a receipt. It's tax exempt and it may save your life, some day."

Your Congressman . . .

Concern Noted Over High Spending

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep. 21st Dist. Calif.

Easter recess is usually the lull before the storm—the storm of controversial legislation that begins to come out of the committees about this time of year.

Most congressmen go home to their districts during the recess to find out what the people are thinking. Then, theoretically, at least, they apply what they've learned during the remainder of the session. If my colleagues got the same impressions that I got from you during my brief visit to our district, and if they apply it, we're in for a very fine session from here on in.

THE HUNDREDS of people with whom I talked told me, first of all, that they're solidly behind the Administration's determination to balance the budget. Businessmen, workers, and especially housewives, have apparently had their fill of huge federal spending programs, high taxes, and inflationary deficit spending.

Furthermore, they realize that balancing the budget is not just a desirable administrative accomplishment, but is vital to the people. They have learned that failure to balance the budget makes for inflationary measures that force up the cost-of-living to everyone, and they don't like it.

Give Me the Quiet Family Life

By Jane Goodsell

Our house has eight unsoundproofed rooms and a basement. We have three children, all daughters. We possess three phonographs, a piano, two radios, a ukulele, a set of bongo drums and several hundred objects which make a loud noise when dropped, which is frequently.

All the children have voices, which are usually raised.
Our oldest daughter is currently engaged in learning the words to songs on the Hit Parade, and our middle daughter practices belching, croaking like the little green frog and, sometimes, her scales on the piano. Our youngest daughter yells and shrieks and giggles and sings and blows her toy trumpet and beats her toy drum and plays her record player at full volume.

OUR MIDDLE daughter goes up and down stairs three at a time. Our oldest daughter takes the last six steps in one leap, landing with a thud that makes the house shake. The way all three children slam doors makes their mother shake.

Our oldest daughter watches television while she is doing her Latin while she argues with her sister who is seeing how far she can count while she jumps rope, which excites the dog who runs in circles and barks.

The children have a father, who sings lusty ballads in the basement where he pounds and saws and hammers and drops things and hurts his fingers and swears loudly.

The children's father has a wife who turns on the radio in the kitchen where the dishwasher is swishing and the electric mixer is whirling and she is banging pots and pans as she calls upstairs to the children and downstairs to her husband, none of whom can hear what she is saying.

THE FAMILY pet is a dachshund who barks because the doorbell is ringing or because somebody is walking past the house or because another dog is barking or just because he feels like barking.

The scene is constantly shifting. Sometimes it is the wife who is upstairs, running the vacuum, while the husband shaves with an electric razor while the middle daughter is in the basement jumping on a pogo stick while the telephone is ringing and the oldest daughter is drumming on the piano and the youngest daughter is watching television and howling.

This mode of living is known as quiet family life.

"I know you're in there, Frisby."

ASSISTING AT Grand Opening ceremonies at the New Owl Drug Co. in Hastings Shopping Center, at 9 a.m. today was glamorous Juli Reding, Miss Reding co-stars with Les Barker in the soon-to-be released "Mission in Morocco," which was produced on location in Spain and Morocco.

A $2,000 DOWN payment, plus closing costs, on a Willowood Plaza Home in West Covina like the one shown above, will be given away as a prize as part of the Grand Opening celebration at the new Owl Drug Store, Rosemead and Foothill, in Pasadena. Store is celebrating Grand Opening April 23 through 26.

Prizes Feature of Owl 4-Day Grand Opening

A four-day Grand Opening celebration got underway at the new Owl Drug Store in Hastings Shopping Center, Rosemead and Foothill, at 9 a.m. today, according to Sam Velis, manager of the newest link in the rapidly expanding Owl chain.

A special ribbon-cutting ceremony officially opened the new Owl store to the public.

Juli Reding, TV and motion picture star, cut the ribbon. Miss Reding is co-starring with Les Barker in the soon-to-be released "Mission in Morocco," which was produced on location in Spain and Morocco.

"SEVERAL MONTHS of planning have gone into our Grand Opening celebration," Mr. Velis said.

"and while the building was still incomplete our buyers were scouring the market for merchandise savings for our new customers in this area. Owl's low prices will be the lowest ever."

In addition to savings, Mr. Velis pointed out that there will be free gifts, prizes and surprises for everyone attending the Owl Grand Opening. A free balloon will be given to every child accompanied by an adult.

The first 500 ladies attending the opening each day of the Grand Opening celebration will receive a free gardenia, and there will also be 500 free bottles of regular $1 Adrienne deep cleansing lotion each afternoon of the four-day Grand Opening, given away on a first-come, first-served basis.

All customers will also have an opportunity to register to win an RCA Victor "Fairway" 17-inch portable TV set to be given away Sunday evening, April 26 at 8 p.m.

ONE OF the highlights is a month-long contest which starts opening day, Thursday, and offers a $2,000 down payment, plus closing costs, on a Willowood Plaza home in West Covina as a prize. Owl customers over 18 years of age are eligible to win. No purchase is necessary.

The prize will be awarded in a public drawing at 3 p.m., Saturday, May 23, at the new drug store. The $2,000 credit is transferable to another adult in the event the winner does not wish to go ahead with the purchase of a home, or is ineligible for the financing offered.

BECAUSE THE Hastings Shopping Center is built on gently sloping land, the new Owl Drug Store occupies a location facing the upper level parking lot, between the A&P Market and the Ontra Cafeteria.

The store can be reached most directly by using the upper level parking lot, entering off Rosemead Blvd.

Customers parking in the lower level lot, on the Foothill Blvd. side, can reach the second level by escalator, disembarking at the entrance to Owl.

On entering the new Owl Drug Store, shoppers will find that nothing has been spared to make them completely at home, providing all the goods and services for which Owl is famous, Mr. Velis said.

Fixtures will be colored: blue for toiletries, white for medicine, and yellow throughout the rest of the store.

Mr. Velis added that the store boasts such features as automatic opening and closing doors, modern lighting, and air conditioning. The entire building, from glass-fiber ceiling to sprinkler system installations, is completely fireproofed.

THE PHARMACY is located in front near the entrance to the building, and is housed in a Grecian temple-type setting. Prescriptions can be given to the pharmacist without entering the main shopping area of the store.

After the store is closed at night, a telephone device known as an electronic secretary takes messages such as prescriptions needed, or refills on prescriptions. When the store opens in the morning these are promptly filled and delivered by Owl's free prescriptions. Owl will also give free delivery within the immediate area on other items sold in the store.

The new Owl will also welcome charge accounts, according to Mr. Velis.

YES DEAR, I'M READY.

State Loses $5 Every Second

SACRAMENTO, April 23 — The State of California has been going in the hole at the rate of $5 a second ever since the current fiscal year began last July 1, State Controller Alan Cranston said yesterday.

To put it more precisely, the State has been losing $294 a minute.

And to put it still more precisely, the State's expenditures have exceeded its revenues by $115,908,251 for the nine months that have passed so far in this fiscal year.

CRANSTON SAID total expenditures for the nine-month period were $945,189,690 while revenues were $829,281,439.

Both columns are up over last year—expenditures by $64,489,321 or 7.32 per cent and revenues by $18,877,078 or 2.33 per cent, Cranston said.

California's greatest revenue source, the sales tax, has accounted for $476,575,002 of its total income so far in the 1958-59 fiscal year. This is an increase of $5,052,573 or 1.07 per cent over the sales tax figure for the first nine months of the 1957-58 fiscal year, Cranston said.

CRANSTON'S MONTHLY report on the status of the General Fund also disclosed that March revenues exceeded expenditures by $101,022,309 to $88,879,555.

It was the second straight month, he said, that income exceeded outgo.

But April, Cranston warned, will be a deficit month. The General Fund will have to borrow from a special fund later in the month to get by.

THE GENERAL FUND paid back $14 million of its loans from special funds during March, Cranston said.

It wiped out completely the $8,500,000 balance remaining on its loan from the Investment Fund and applied the other $5,500,000 on its loan from the Architecture Revolving Fund.

"Maybe we shoulda' had her vaccinated."

Playhouse Fare . . .

'No Time for Sergeants' Rollicking Comedy-Satire

By Edward L. Voorhees

The Pasadena Playhouse audience broke the sound barrier with applause on opening night (April 16) of "No Time for Sergeants" with young James Holden as "Farmer Boy" Will Stockdale, a hillbilly "drafted" from Georgia, who promptly becomes the highly likeable chief disturber of air force regulations in this fast-moving comedy-satire on induction procedures, psychiatry tests and testers, "passing the buck," and the pet vanities and idiosyncrasies of sergeants and "the brass"—big and little.

A generous share of audience applause is for the novel and enormously impressive stage setting and mechanism, designed and produced by Don J. Remacle and assistants, by which each scene melts into the next with the intermittent and natural fluency of the "Camera eye."

It moves from "Pa's" fare—well at the farm shack in Georgia, to the bus stop for inductees, to the induction camp, sergeants' and psychiatrist's offices, through a starved latrine, and on to an air transport on the ground, then rising to full flight among the clouds, taking the thrilled audience with it—as delighted as a kid with a new kind of toy!

FARMER BOY Will Stockdale finds his pride, joy, and diligence in his first assignment, that of latrine custodian, so labeled by the wily Sergeant King, who sees in this recruit's efficient enthusiasm a way to curry favor with the Colonel, whose god is Sanitation in the Absolute, worshipped daily at inspection time.

Therefore, Sergeant King tries to block Farmer Boy Will's application for transfer to the Infantry along with his draftee buddy, Ben Whitley, three generations of whose Georgia family have been Infantry.

EXCITEMENT reaches concert pitch for Will, Ben, eventually the whole Air Force—and the audience—when the two green buddies are allowed by a sleepy pilot to go along for the ride on a routine training flight "to Denver and back." Well started on its high flight, the huge transport is discovered to be without compass and without its radio man.

With Farmer Boy acting as volunteer "compass" and Ben as amateur radio man the transport disappears into the blue distance, with pilot and co-pilot hotly discussing whether they are over the Great American Desert or the Gulf of Mexico.

Some scenes later, the two adventurers are seen in a tangled parachute descent together, disappear again, are reported as killed, and then reappear at camp battered and tattered but alive, just at the finish of a memorial ceremony in their honor. Farmer Boy Will, hearing Taps, remarks innocently to Ben, "Somebody's playin' the horn."

ALTHOUGH THE cast of over 30 has only three minor female characters, the feminine part of the audience has much ground for interest and amusement in the droll and frank capers of men far away from the at once subduing and disturbing presence of the complementary set.

At the windup many masculine faces are red and there is much passing of the famous buck. Robert Casper as Ben, Jack Bryan as Sergeant King, Tom Jordan as Irvin stand out strongly as individuals. Sidney Mason as General Bush, Thomas Charlesworth as a General Pollard, and Doug Andrews as a Psychiatrist lend color as types of service rank and technique.

The directing by James Holden is superb, of a dramatization by Ira Levin of the 1954 best-selling novel of the same name by Mac Hyman, ex-Air Force lieutenant. The play had 798 performances in New York, and will perform here nightly from Tuesdays to Sundays, inclusive, at 8:30, with Saturday matinees at 2:30.

Drawings by Ewing Impart Grandeur

By Jonathan Scott

Drawing, in the most general use of the term, means lines drawn on paper with pencil, pen or chalk. After viewing the excellent collection of drawings by Edgar Ewing at the Sierra Madre Library, one comes away with a different concept of the term, for the image these small works leave is one of paintings in black, white and grey.

The sketches are clear evidence of Ewing as a painter, rather than a sculptor, draughtsman, illustrator or architect.

The subject matter is largely taken from the artist's recent sojourn in Greece, but examples of former enthusiasms—the Pasadena Rose Parade, a Matador's equipment and the dogs of Ewing's Mt. Washington neighborhood—are also to be seen.

IN MANY instances the drawings are preliminary compositions for paintings. Two oils are shown, "Rose Parade Saddle" and "Greek Vase," both rich in reds and greens.

That paintings don't just grow on canvas without forethought and planning is evident, for here is the pen and wash preparatory sketch hanging alongside the finished work, and it's organization varies little from that of the finished painting. The canvases gain in impact through simplification.

This is essentially a drawing show and whether or not one is acquainted with the paintings they germinate, the drawings are complete and valid works in themselves.

The head of Agamemnon is striking in that two images are skillfully blended. It is both a portrait of the ancient Greek leader and a found object, such as a curious rock one might pick up off the ground, or even more, like picking up an old coin and after weighing it in one's hand and wiping off the dirt, the thrill of discovery is replaced by mental curiosity, and one exclaims "Why, look at this, I thought it was quite a find, but I'll be darned if that isn't old Agamemnon's head depicted here."

SUCH THOUGHTS may or may not have come to Ewing, but archiology and the chance of unearthing some treasure are inevitably part of one's thinking in this ancient land.

Ewing's unusual method of drawing employs washes of black ink, diluted ink for a grey and the white of his paper. Significant detail appears in white areas as black lines drawn with the pen.

Of these the most striking are two small pictures no more than 5 inches high and 10 inches wide from the Acropolis series. They are "The Erechtheum" and "Entrance to Acropolis." The dimensions mentioned are unrelated to the impact of the pictures for there's a fine sense of scale and they could in fact be blown up to mural dimensions without loss.

HAD AN architect made these drawings, his probable desire to differentiate between Doric columns in the one building and Ionic in the other would be informative but unexciting pictorially.

Edgar Ewing has communicated his painter's excitement and sense of drama. The brilliant white buildings, the surrounding areas of hilltop and sky in deep grey and black and just enough significant detail offered by the caryatid figures of the Erechtheum to give meaning to the big areas.

Southland Holiday . . .

Rodeos, Fiestas Scheduled Daily in May

Ranging from a college cowboys' rodeo to a fiesta in an Indian village, May sets an unofficial record for number of colorful events in the Southland, the All-Year Club reported yesterday.

Thirty-one such events will be held, an average of one daily, according to the calendar issued by the All-Year Club in its work of attracting the tourists who spend over half a billion dollars yearly in the area.

The unusual collegiate rodeo will be held at 2 o'clock the afternoons of May 16 and 17 at the campus arena of Pierce Junior College on Winnetka Ave. in the San Fernando Valley where the local cowboys will take on the best from seven other agricultural colleges in three states. The campus cowboys train like a football team — at bronc and bull riding and calf and steer roping.

ALSO IN THE valley, San Fernando, which grew up beside the arches of old Mission, holds its Fiesta starting with a Queen's Ball May 30 and ceremony at the mission next day. The parade June 6 brings out gorgeously accoutered riders.

At Little Pala Indian village north of San Diego the Corpus Christi Fiesta will be held May 31, as it has every year since 1816. Little Indian girls will scatter flowers before the procession of the clergy and mounted Indians followed by tribesmen singing Spanish hymns.

CATALINA ISLAND holds its Pirate Rendezvous May 1-3, a three-day costume party with masquerade, balls and a treasure hunt following actual old pirate clues ($5,000 in modern treasure is buried, too).

San Diego holds the 14th annual Miss Con-Tour Beauty Congress May 31, 20 lovely girls vying for the right to reign over the Southern California Exposition and county fair.

Ojai holds its unique Music Festivals May 22-24, with concerts both indoors and in a wooded bowl. Robert Craft, young American conductor, conducts the orchestra.

For the 38th year Bishop holds its traditional Rain-bow Day celebration May 2, fishermen bringing their best catches to town to vie for prizes for biggest trout, best limits of Rainbow, Brown, Eastern Brook, mixed baskets.

LONE PINE holds its 19th annual Stampede May 22-24 with RCA rodeo and western parade including children on horses, cows, bulls, donkeys.

For 50 cents, any visitor can borrow a turtle from the corral and enter it in the Grand National Turtle Sweepstakes at Joshua Tree May 2-3.

The fifth annual Indio Fire Department Sidewinder Jeep Cruise leaves town in a weaving course, sirens screaming, and heads for the desert May 16 on a rugged two-day trek.

At Blythe 100 motorboats race 50 miles down the Colorado and back May 24 in the annual river Marathon.

BRAWLEY celebrates nearby Mexico's independence with a Cinco de Mayo fiesta May 5 including parade and bullfight.

Indians, prospectors, burros and ox-teams will appear in the Grubstakes Days parade at Yucca Valley May 8-10.

Alhambra greets its valley with a Hi Neighbor Celebration May 9-23 for the 14th year. Theme for the parade on the last day is "Famous Adventures."

THE CITY'S 73rd birthday will be celebrated during Monrovia Days May 13-16. Citizens wear western dress and beard contest sponsors claim the "biggest collection of hay in the West."

Pomona celebrates its Spanish California heritage with La Fiesta del Valle de Pomona May 15-16. There will be a historical parade Saturday.

Thousand Oaks holds Honorary Mayor Day May 16 with a parade, rodeo and barbecue. Present mayor, to be succeeded, is Wagonmaster Ward Bond.

Orange for the 27th year holds its May Festival May 18-23. Citizens don costume along the theme of "Storybook Days" and compete for prizes at a community break-fast.

Escondido, lemon and avocado town, holds the Citra-cado Days May 20-24. Free lemonade and avocado dip stations are set up.

THE WORLD'S only hen derby, with citizens backing egg-layers, will be held during Fontana Days May 22-23.

A parade of light-decorated boats, with fireworks bursting overhead, will sail over San Diego Bay the night of the 23rd during San Diego's Harbor Days May 22-24. Navy and Coast Guard ships hold open house.

Culver City for the second year holds a community pancake breakfast in Memorial Park. The morning of May 23. All the pancakes you can eat for half a dollar; last year 5,500 did.

Citizens wear clothes of the early west for Fallbrook's Pioneer Days of parade, street dances and carnival May 30-31.

THREE THOUSAND colorfully costumed dancers will assemble in Bakerfield May 15-17 for the California Folk Dance Federation's statewide festival. There will be a costume fashion parade.

Nearly 2,000 varieties of mountain and desert wildflowers will be exhibited in the basement of the town hall in the mountaintop village of Julian near San Diego for two weeks starting May 9.

Santa Barbara holds a geranium show, with six divisions, at Cabrillo Pavilion May 16-17.

African violets have their own show May 8-9 at the Crenshaw Youth Center in Los Angeles. Theme is "Melodies in Violets."

SOME 600 horsemen and coach riders assemble at Santa Barbara Mission for a ceremony May 2 starting the annual trek of the Rancheros Visitadores through the valley to end at Santa Ines Mission May 9.

Another unique ride starts May 9 at Barstow and winds up 150 miles away at Las Vegas. A chuckwagon accompanies with food and drink.

Fifty displays of gems and rare stones along the theme of "Kaleidoscope of Gems" will be displayed in the Glendale Lapidary and Gem Society's annual show May 16-17 at the civic auditorium.

The best of some 50 campus groups who tried out will appear in costume in the annual University of Southern California Songfest at the Hollywood Bowl the night of May 16.

Goodwill Festival Set For May 5

The annual spring festival sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary to Goodwill Industries will be May 5, in the non-profit welfare organization's main plant and headquarters at 342 San Fernando Rd., Los Angeles, Mrs. E. T. Goetz, president, announced. The event is one of the principal means in raising funds used by the auxiliary in helping Goodwill Industries to provide employment, training and rehabilitation for handicapped men and women.

Time Change

The advent of daylight saving time at 1 a.m. Sunday, April 26, will find Santa Fe Railway transcontinental trains remaining on present schedules and operating according to Pacific Standard Time. Schedules of trains operating between Los Angeles and San Diego will be moved to conform to the new time.

School Open House

Open house for all parents and friends of John Marshall Junior High School will be held Thursday evening, April 30, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be a program in the school auditorium.

28 School Study Areas On Agenda

Twenty-eight areas for study were listed by the members of the Citizens-Staff Advisory Committee for the Study of the Education Program at their first meeting.

This committee, which also studied the school budget prior to the calling of a special election to establish a new school tax rate, will continue under the chairmanship of Ralph Rule, with both citizens and members of the school administrative and teaching staffs represented.

THE SUGGESTED study areas ranged from specific academic subjects through discipline and homework to ability grouping, emotional disturbance problems, and summer school.

As work progresses, the committee plans to call on teachers in the school system and experts from outside for further information before making recommendations to the School Board at the end of the study.

At the second meeting of the committee on April 23, at 8 p.m. in the School District office, the questions of the physical education, arithmetic, spelling, and possibly foreign language programs will be brought up for discussion.

COMMITTEE members present at the organizational meeting were Chairman Ralph Rule, George Fleming, Edward Hawkins, Mrs. Alvin Hackbarth, Mrs. Robert Foreney, Mrs. Dorothy Baird, Mrs. Vivian Olson, Arthur

Benedict, R. E. Walker, Miss Betty Newton, Mrs. George Lindsay, John Carr and Mrs. Claude Brown Jr.

The committee remains open to any citizen in Sierra Madre who is constructively interested in the education program in the public schools and who is willing to give time and effort to this project.

Since the committee is supposed to be representative of all Sierra Madreans, present committee members urge all interested persons, regardless of their points of view, to participate.

Copies of the drawing will be on display at the City Hall and in the Library.

I got myself into an absolute twit of excitement the other day. I received a telephone call asking if we had a television. Yes, we had a television. Would I be willing to partake in a survey and check off the programs I watch? Would I? I was eager with anticipation. At long last I could be a statistic on a poll. Well, I guess I seemed too anxious to take that is the last I ever heard of that little opportunity. I was all ready to put my black mark on that nasty little bird that is always calling attention to a (name withheld) bread by pecking through masts on ships.

I don't suffer from any diseases, but if I did, I would far prefer to go to a doctor than have some announcer diagnose my case via the big glass eye. I'm so impressionable and I find it hard not to run down to the nearest pharmacy and purchase all the sure cures they advertise. You'd be surprised at the useless bottles and boxes of this and that I've gathered over the past few years. Oh well, if they don't want my opinion, it's all right. I'll just sit home and sulk!

THE HOME of Dr. and Mrs. Clete Dorsey on Fairpoint Ave. was the scene of a beautiful wedding dinner last Friday evening. The bride was Dr. Dorsey's sister, formerly Miss Carrie Dorsey. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clete B. Dorsey of Bangor, Mich. Her groom is Donald Eggleston, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Eggleston.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother in the absence of her parents. Her attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clete Dorsey. The best man was Mr. Edward Sweeting. The bride wore a street length Italian silk sheath gown with a white straw hat trimmed under the brim with gathered white organza. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid. Mrs. Dorsey was dressed in a light blue silk sheath and wore a cap of orange blossoms. She carried violets.

They were married at the Church of the Angels in Pasadena. After the wedding dinner, which included about 36 friends and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eggleston departed for a brief honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside in South Pasadena.

FRIENDS of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Matloff of Old House Road will be happy to learn that they have become grandparents. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Matloff, presented them with a baby girl, born April 13 at the Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach. They have named her Julie Anne, and she weighed in at 7 pounds, 4 ounces. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Clinton Campbell, of Irvine Estates. The mother and baby are doing well and the grandparents are recovering.

NEW ON our hill are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. Mulberry. They recently purchased a lovely new oriental influence home at 3320 Fairpoint Ave. Matter of fact, they almost made history by buying it one day and moving in almost on the next day. They are lovely warm people and very anxious to become a part of our community life. Mr. Mulberry is associated as a civilian with the U.S.A.F. They have one daughter who is married and living in Texas. Incidentally, though they have sold their plane, both the Mulberrys hold their pilot's licenses.

ALSO ON FAIRPOINT. The John Eppards were happily surprised recently by a house warming party given by a group of their local friends. The guests brought everything from the cocktails and hors d'oeuvres through the dinner course and dessert, and what's more, they left nothing to be cleaned up in their wake. A wonderful way to have a party, I'd say. In addition to all the food, they were presented with a tidy purse towards the purchase of some plants for their garden. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Fleming, Douglas Glassford, Clayton Conan, John Mozzacano,

If all the flowered bonnets seen at the CF fashion luncheon were laid end to end, what a riot—of color, that is. As usual the audience outshone the models in glories, with their latest styles in clothes, lipstick colors, hair colors, nail colors and shoe colors.

Among the rainbow of flowered hats two standing out were blue and green blossoms crowning Betty Stearns (in beige linen and embroidery sheath) and rosy orange petals complimenting Sherry McClain (in matching suit.) Dorothy Halperin's gigantic orange poppy growing from her small white straw, also was a show stopper. Doris Jennings looked like a magazine cover in lemon ice cream dress and black straw cartwheel.

Paris Spring originals with their twins copied for the more-or-less average pocket-book, were a little too cool-weatherish for Southern California's spring and summer. Many were wearable, however, and will be great for fall. One satin evening envelope (legal size) of a coat, however, was so bulky as to cause considerable amusement among the casual-sports-type audience. In fact, the "Holy cats" exploding from Jean Evers, was a fitting comment.

Among former ranch residents who came to the show were Flossie Semple, now a Santa Anna; Madeline Bowen, who lives on the other side of Pasadena after some time spent in New England; and Jerry Alsop, who recently deserted for West Covina.

Two Rim Road couples take off for Europe next weekend—Hank and Helen Henry, and Art and Margaret Mann. They are not going together, but plan a reunion either in Paris or Copenhagen.

The Manns are flying to England May 1, and then will travel on the continent, their trip being a combination business and pleasure jaunt.

Helen and Hank, going strictly for vacation, are a part of the Volkswagen tour of 20 couples jetting out of Los Angeles May 2. Each couple will pick up a Volkswagen in Munich, and then tour by motorcade through Germany, Holland, France, Italy and Switzerland. They'll fly home a month later, leaving their new car, with push-back top, to arrive a few weeks later by ship.

A little closer to home, the Norm Shanks family spent last weekend in Mexico; Sue and Joe Cummins vacationed.

ed a few days at Del Monte Lodge; Betty and John McGraw weekendend at Los Vegas.

Everybody who was there is still talking about the Nightlighters "head dress" party the other Saturday night, when the 15 member couples appeared in towering head arrangements, each more amazing and wackier than the last. In the teen vernacular, the party was a "blast."

That little black streak wending its way up the hill to Startouch is Stan Johnson in his new Borgward sports car.

The number 11 in the Burr Hollinger family certainly proved lucky for son, Burr. On April 11, the eleventh wedding anniversary of the Hollingers, Burr went to Harold's Shoe Store to buy his Little League shoes. As is customary at Harold's, all youngsters receive a ticket for the drawing for Little League equipment, with the purchase of their shoes. Well, Burr was given number 11 and came time for the drawing—you guessed it. He was the lucky winner of the fielder's mitt. Oh yes, the Hollingers also were married on the eleventh hour.

Liza Jane Boldemann, droll Bassett Hound, has presented her family a litter of seven very elegant puppies. Of course, it's still too soon to settle the bets in the neighborhood as to who is the father. It seems Liza Jane took herself "out-on-the-town" one rainy 24 hours and was seen with an English bulldog, black cocker spaniel and several others of mixed breeds. Any one of the "suspects" should contribute to very handsome, if unusual, looking pups.

Ethel and Don Hays have purchased a pretty Early American home at the top of Sierra Madre Villa. All their friends and neighbors are happy they will be staying in the area.

Harvey Brown went back to work this week following six days in Sierra Madre Hospital, following an appendectomy and a recuperative stay at home.

Gail Templar
Hosis Square
Dance Party

Gail Templar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Templar, 1220 Tropical, entertained last Friday night at a square dance party.

The big laugh of the evening came when guests participated in the "Lucy and Elmer" game. In this presently popular game with the younger set, girls must don boys' clothes, over their own, and the boys, girls'. All of the switching is timed so the winners must really "hustle."

In attendance were Joyce Goudge, Jan Ostrander, Beverly Zaremba, Brenda Bartling, Susan Roberts, Jane Mobus, Wendy Welliver, Lucy Johnson, Susan Beers, Marjorie Shearer and Judy Mayhew.

Also, Murray Davis, Doug Senour, David Harris, Eric Mortensen, Gene Vance, John Kinard, Rob Babick, Chris Barr, Bobby Saxson, James Simone, Robbie Thibaut and John Porter.

FORUM TICKETS

Season tickets are now available for the 1959-1960 series of Tuesday Evening Forum programs at Pasadena City College. Each season ticket entitles the holder to a reserved seat for the 20 programs and sells for $2 for the entire series.

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES SHORTEN YOUR WORKDAY
IN THE ALL-ELECTRIC KITCHEN OF A

Medallion Home

Your work is so much easier in the all-electric kitchen of a Medallion Home. Your modern electric range and oven, for example, automatically control cooking temperatures. And electric cooking keeps your kitchen so much cleaner and cooler.

Electric appliances are only one of the advantages offered by every Medallion Home. Remember this: 2 out of 3 homes built today are electrically obsolete, but every home that displays the Medallion award has passed rigid specifications laid down by electric utilities...specifications which guarantee a new home to be electrically up to date today, and far into the future.

And, for the ultimate in modern electric living, there's the Gold Medallion Home. It's all electric, with a modern electric heating system such as the amazing electric heat pump that both heats and cools.

Every Medallion Home guarantees:

1. An all-electric kitchen, including a modern electric range and oven—all part of the basic home price.
2. Full Housepower wiring to handle the appliances you own today plus those that you'll surely want tomorrow.
3. Provisions for proper lighting in all areas where it's needed to insure your family's safety and comfort.

San Felipe Boasts Big Totuava

By Al Miyadi

FLY LINES—Davey's Locker may have to move out of Newport Harbor due to property developments.

Lease on the Santa Monica Pier landing runs out in October. Harbor Commission may not renew, city's take is way down.

Belmont Shores, most recent of Long Beach landings, may not open as skedded, no boat.

Paradise Cove's bait boat last week clobbered by tanker while on way to Pedro. No injuries.

Old Dinah Lee, which operated out of Belmont Shores last year, may reappear as new three-quarter day boat out of either Joe Martin's 22nd St. Landing in Pedro or up at Paradise Cove. Long Fin also slated for Paradise but later in the season.

Old Petrol, once a big favorite with Southland anglers, now operating out of San Clemente, was up for sale ($15,000), no takers, 1908 vintage.

Pierpoint also trying to peddle Spitfire, asking $25,000, no pickups.

Malibu still running only one boat (half-day), working furiously for second runner.

Redondo's half-day fare hiked to $4.50 (from $4), Gordie McRae says no squawks... apparently peasants have money, will travel.

Bryant Morris, new owner of the 22nd St. Pedro landing, says his Star Angler will go in July... boats all radar-equipped... Joe Martin to stick around.

WEEKLY WINNER—Edward E. Stary, 247 24th St., Santa Monica, wins two fishing passes to Norm's San Pedro Landing, good on any boat; Norbert H. Witt, 415 E. Danimere Ave., Arcadia, comes up a San Diego winner, two ducats on any one of Joe Miller's fine Fishermen's Landing boats.

Contest runs weekly, open to anybody. Simply write down your best gripe, mail to me: 3506 Muscatel Circle, Rosemead... who knows, yours may be the only one I get.

Starting next week, will throw in more loot, namely the hottest barracuda jigs in town, the famous Jerry-jig... half-dozen each week.

ON THE BEACH—Bill Beebe, Mirror News photo, whose beat is Santa Monica

Bay, tells small (4-pounder) yellow talken of Playa Del Ray Jetty on chrome jig.

San Felipe weekend crowds down, but weather's up... winds still a tricky item, but bay swarming with big totuava, up to 200 pounds.

Ensenada fishing red hot still, for yellowtail, but crowds going down should pick up by vacation time.

Skipper out of Norm's reports huge schools of bluefin tuna in mid-channel... incurious, moving real swift... could break by next month.

Jack Ward, Paradise Cove skipper, reports fish gutting reveals scads of the tiny tuna crab... Bill Hutchison there reports first yellowtail of the season (for them) being taken off barge Buccaneer last weekend, 4-pounder.

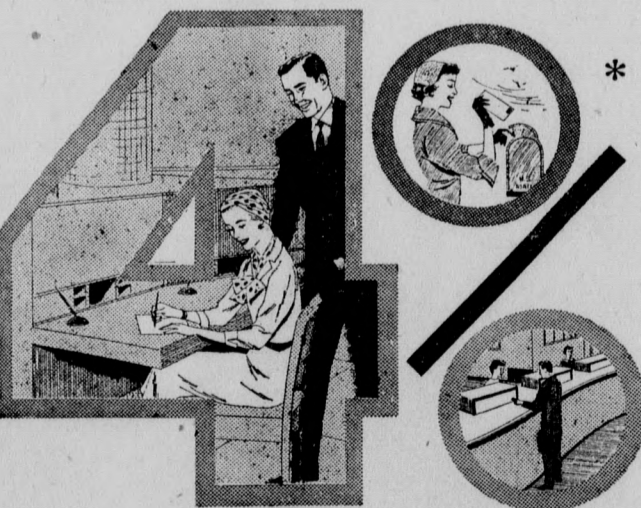

Lots of fish at the old Horseshoe Kelp, but real moody... Big boneheads thick at Rock Point.

Postmaster Charles E. Louk announced yesterday that applications are now being accepted for the position of postal clerk and letter carrier.

Mr. Louk said that the Post Office Department had established a special Board of Civil Service Examiners for the Los Angeles area to speed up the testing and rating of applicants who take the Civil Service examinations. This will enable enrollment of career postal employees as soon as vacancies occur.

Applications from both men and women are being accepted for clerk positions, but men only may apply for letter carrier positions. In most instances, clerk vacancies will be filled from the male register.

Applications will continue to be received until adequate registers are established. Applicants must reside within the delivery limits of the Sierra Madre Post Office and must have reached their 18th birthday on the date of filing application, which may be done immediately at the Post Office.

Use Your Head, You Can Save Your Feet

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn.)

By using his head, a person can save his feet, his posture, his disposition, and maybe even his general health.

Foot troubles are unnecessary, but many people have them—usually because they "abuse their feet unmercifully." Some tips on foot care are listed in the March issue of "Today's Health," a publication of the American Medical Association.

Heels on shoes are a major source of foot trouble, the article said. One New York orthopedist has observed that a woman's foot troubles begin when she starts buying shoes in the woman's department.

THE ARTICLE recommended that heels be no higher than one and one-half inches; that shoes have plenty of toe space to prevent cramping, and that they fit snugly to give support.

Shoes should be purchased late in the afternoon, since feet swell during the day and are slightly larger at that time. Shoes should never be bought by size; the feet should always be measured.

Extreme care should be taken in buying shoes for children. Hand-me-down shoes should be avoided since they never fit properly. Children's feet grow at an "astounding rate," the article said.

On the average a child will outgrow a pair of shoes in three months. The shoe should be three-fourths of an inch longer than the longest toe. Leather shoes are best, but canvas shoes are all right for playing, provided they are not worn constantly, the article noted.

CORNS ARE simple masses of dead skin cells with a sensitive core, caused by sensitive rubbing. Cutting corns is not advisable and neither is the use of drug store corn removers. The safest home treatment is a simple non-medicated moleskin plaster, which will lessen pressure and pain. A well-fitting shoe, however, is the best corn remover.

Bunions result when toes are cramped and the ends of the bones next to the toes thicken causing heavy calluses to form. At times, the condition becomes serious enough to require surgery. A long course of exercises may restore normal function. Ingrown toenails occur when the toes are cramped and the nails are improperly cut. They should be cut straight across.

ATHLETE'S FOOT is usually a minor nuisance. If it occurs, the feet should be washed daily and dried thoroughly. It is vitally important to keep the feet dry. Boric acid foot powders help, and so does ordinary talcum. Some footaches can be traced to poor circulation. Propping the feet up on a desk or table from time to time will help relieve the pain.

"If you feet hurt, go to a specialist: an orthopedist who is medically trained.
